

33 Years of Making Waves for Wisconsin Water Wisconsin Rural Water Foundation Sportsman's Raffle

This year marks the 33rd annual Sportsman's Raffle—a tradition that has become the cornerstone of support for Wisconsin's water and wastewater professionals. What started three decades ago as a simple fundraiser has evolved into a legacy of impact, raising over $1.3 million to advance the Wisconsin Rural Water Association's mission.

Our Mission, Powered by Your Partnership

Every dollar raised through the Sportsman's Raffle directly fuels critical initiatives:

- Advanced education and training programs for water operators
- Development and maintenance of physical training centers
- Essential equipment provision to rural communities
- Networking opportunities connecting suppliers and operators
- Ongoing support for water and wastewater professionals statewide

Your Company Makes a Difference

In 33 years, this event has raised over $1.3 million for the Wisconsin Rural Water Foundation. That's real money creating real change—training the operators who keep our water safe, building the facilities where they learn, and equipping the communities that depend on them. When you donate, you're not just supporting an event—you're investing in Wisconsin's water infrastructure and the people who protect it.

What's In It For You?

- Featured placement on the WRWA Sportsman's Raffle webpage—the go-to resource for members and operators before the conference
- A personalized donor sign displayed at your booth during the event
- Recognition in the WRWA quarterly journal alongside your prize winner
- Direct exposure to over 90 participating vendors and hundreds of water industry professionals
- Strengthened relationships within Wisconsin's water community

How to Participate and be a Donor to this Legacy

Participating is simple, and early donors get prime visibility:

- Minimum donation: $300 (act early for maximum exposure!)
- Choose unique items that stand out (guns are always welcome, but avoid duplicate non-gun prizes)

Go Digital! Submit your donation online at <https://www.wrwasportsmansraffle.com/> for instant confirmation and recognition.
